Battlefield Journey

Bespoke battlefielded tours for anyone and everyone . . .

What we do

Battlefield Journey organise battlefield visits for a variety of individuals and groups. Whether you are visiting the battlefields for the first time, researching a family member or the fortunes of a particular unit or a frequent visitor wishing to see something new, we will tailor your visit to meet your precise requirements.

Our visits cater for individuals, small groups and societies and corporate groups looking to do something 'different'.

We also offer a planning service to schools, helping them to offer their own itineraries to enable them to meet their own needs and requirements.

Who we are

We are a small independent company. We all have many years experience as teachers and as battlefield guides. We take great pride in organising and planning all aspects of our trips. As no two trips are the same this is frequently a challenging and rewarding exercise.

We pride ourselves on establishing a good working relationship with our clients - many of whom we keep in touch with well after our visits are over. When you make contact with us one of us will deal with every aspect of your visit - from the moment of initial contact until we part company on our return to the UK.

Where we go

Currently our visits focus on 5 main areas

The Ypres Salient 1914 - 1918

The Somme 1914 - 1918

The London Blitz

The Normandy Landings 1944

The Holocaust.

Within this broad framework we offer customers, with our assistance, the opportunity to customise their visit and to go to places that are of relevance to them.

What makes us special

All our trips are bespoke. We do not take trips off the shelf and impose them upon our clients. We work hard to deliver a programme that suits your needs, whether you are an individual or part of a group. As we say we like to make it personal!
